Cathi Kaesberg named Outstanding University Teacher Award – Category II

Cathi Kaesberg, instructional assistant professor at Mennonite College of Nursing, will receive the Outstanding University Teacher Award – Category II at the Illinois State University’s Founders Day Convocation on Thursday, February 18. This award is for non tenure-track faculty and staff whose teaching accomplishments are exceptionally significant and meritorious among their ISU colleagues.

Kaesberg has been an instructor at Mennonite College of nursing since 1988. She teaches Adult Nursing III, and Pathophysiology/Pharmacology I and II. She has coordinated the N.C.L.E.X. Success Plan since 2001, and has lead MCN students to achieve the highest pass rates scores not only in the state, but across the country. She also received the Kathleen A. Hogan Teaching Excellence Award, which was established by the MCN class of 1987 to provide an opportunity for senior students to honor the faculty member whom they believe exhibits excellence in teaching.

“Cathi’s contributions in and outside of the classroom to our students’ success have long lasting effects and it is wonderful to see her honored,” said Janet Wessel Krejci, dean of Mennonite College of Nursing. “Her passion, drive, and focus are true gifts to MCN.”
